Within the house of my understanding I see places I have not known whose colors are a mystery describable in terms of time and space and living and I ask why why does time keep their names within his temper my thoughts a panorama of wishes and waiting tomorrows hesitating discovery suddenly into living!
meeting variations on the theme of being alive aware opening my senses to understanding stepping into creation with life spinning off around me putting moments into sequence a picture on pictures a composite life

People enveloped in the union outside in Summer-Fall's balmy time is watching

knowing they move inside—hesitating as falling leaves fill the empty spaces

SCA. President Steve West

Student Cooperative Association

The Government that Governs least Governs Best The motto of our merry Student Council frolicking from Class to Class Happiness is power and whimsy with Effervesent officers and fanciful policies puttering About filling thirty-six weeks with three weeks work Enjoying every minute planning drives issuing notices Playing cards blissfully unaware providing Entertainment for the electorate as they glide from Ridiculous to absurd

Homeroom Representatives elected autonomy the couriers of the SCA

relate all the excitement of meetings to the ever weary homerooms squeezing their missives
into the seconds between announcements a world in its own SCA's come and SCA's go but there is always a Homeroom Representative giving out fines diligently reading reports asking if there are any questions and of course there are but few

Madrigals continuing a tradition of pure vocal music singing without piano relying on each other for pitch relying on themselves for perfection madrigals combine talent with cooperation singing old songs, traditional rounds, classical motets modern musical poetics madrigals enjoy their songs dressed in traditional garb, a few voices combine to express their joy and satisfaction quality superceding quantity

Symphonic Choir

Members: First Row: L. Cobb, P. Kelly, K. Nelson, L. Sudol, V. Wallace, J. Moran, R. McDonald, R. Latham, S. Lanier, M. Rutledge, P. Mogin (Sec.), S. Hatcher; Second Row: B. Kerr, J. Watson, N. Pusey, R. Simmons.

Symphonic meaning many parts each with a particular talent their songs vary from "White Christmas" to Bach with a pianist and director this choir is a formal singing group their strength is in skilled numbers each section must blend to form the whole the pressure is not on the individual their somber robes create an aura of solemnity and respect no longer individual voices they create a blended harmony with giving form to intangible sound

Tigerettes

A whirling and a twirling Inspiration for a tired band high steps and smiles from leaders eagerly followed
Lobby gyrations with a big band sound Batons
gone but not forgotten
Spun-out Tassled GO-GO boots for a leaping and a jumping in 4-4 time Tigerettes a visual consolation for defeat

SOPHOMORES

Sophomores the dictionary calls them
Wise Fools
Thinking they know not knowing why
They grow secure their position
Found.
Suddenly the Wise Fools hit the Wall Holding on to possessions they flounder
Finding Responsibility

A Wise Fool is a Wooden Image Time will wear the paint away Leaving the fibers still young
still growing
